Angele is a French singer and songwriter. She was born in the town of Saint-Maur-des-Fossés, in the suburbs of Paris, on April 30, 1996. Her father is from Martinique and her mother is from Guadeloupe. Angele began her musical career at the age of 16, when she posted a cover of the song "J'ai cherché" by Amir on YouTube. The video went viral, and Angele quickly gained a following. She released her debut single, "La Loi de Murphy", in 2016, and followed it with her debut EP, Je veux tout, in 2017. Angele's music is a mix of R&B, pop, and hip-hop, and she has been compared to artists such as Rihanna and Drake. Angele has won several awards, including two Victoires de la Musique Awards (for Best Female Artist and Best New Artist), and she was nominated for a Grammy Award for Best International Artist in 2019.

She has also been nominated for several other awards, including the Brit Awards, the MTV Europe Music Awards, and the NRJ Music Awards.

Angele concert was so good! I loved every minute of it. The energy, the music, the crowd... it was all perfect. I'm so glad I went and I would definitely do it again.
